Investment strategy

SKAGEN Focus Lux is a high conviction equity fund that seeks to generate long-term capital growth by investing in a portfolio of global companies with a bias towards small and mid-cap stocks. The fund is actively managed and applies a contrarian and price-driven investment process to create a portfolio which typically trades at a steep discount to the broader market based on traditional valuation metrics.

Risk profile (SRI)

We have classified this product as 4 out of 7, which is a medium risk class.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets. A medium risk class rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium level. Other risks materially relevant to the PRIIP not included in the summary risk indicator: Event risk, liquidity risk, operational risk, counterparty risk, derivatives risk and currency risk. If the fund invests in securities in a currency other than the fund's base currency, the value is affected by changes in the exchange rate. In addition, the value of your payout may be affected if your local currency is different from the fund's currency. This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

Q1 commentary, March 2026

The fund started the year on a positive note, supported by early signs of a broadening market environment following a prolonged period of extreme concentration in global equity markets. Entering 2026, several signals suggested that the investment landscape was moving toward a more normalised phase, with investors increasingly scrutinising both the scale and return profile of the ongoing AI investment cycle. Capital expenditure among the "Magnificent 7" has risen sharply and is now estimated to be close to 90% of operating cash flows. This marks a significant shift away from shareholder returns such as buybacks and towards capital-intensive investments with uncertain long-term returns. As a result, performance in this group weakened during the period, while parts of the value chain – particularly commoditised producers within memory and storage – began to benefit from the investment cycle.

However, the operating environment changed abruptly in March. Military actions by the US in Iran took financial markets by surprise and triggered a sharp increase in geopolitical risk. Market attention quickly shifted to the Strait of Hormuz, a critical passage for global energy supply through which approximately 20% of global crude oil and liquefied natural gas flows. The resulting oil price shock – one of the most significant commodity price increases in recent history – had a broad negative impact on global equities. This sudden shift in macro conditions weighed on the portfolio, which gave back earlier gains and declined both in absolute and relative terms during March.

Performance during the quarter was significantly influenced by the sharp increase in commodity prices following the escalation in geopolitical tensions. Our position in Methanex was among the strongest contributors. Methanol prices increased in tandem with oil prices, supported by the fact that approximately 10% of global methanol production originates from Iran. The company continues to deleverage following recent acquisitions, and we expect strong free cash flow generation in the coming years, which may support meaningful capital allocation initiatives. South Korean construction company DL E&C was the strongest performer during the quarter, rising more than 50% and reaching our price target. The position was consequently exited in line with our price driven disciplined investment process. Our recently initiated position in South Korean conglomerate KCC also performed strongly after attracting activist interest. Proposals included the potential sale of its stake in Samsung C&T and the cancellation of treasury shares, both of which could unlock significant shareholder value. On the negative side, German auto-parts manufacturer Aumovio gave back strong gains from late 2025 despite delivering solid quarterly results. Travel conglomerate TUI, one of the strongest performers towards the end of last year, declined sharply amid increased uncertainty following the escalation in geopolitical tensions and the associated impact on travel demand. Austrian building materials company Wienerberger was also weak during the quarter, following cautious guidance and concerns around a slower recovery in European residential construction activity.

We remained disciplined in trimming positions that approached our price targets during the strong market environment early in the quarter. This included reductions in positions such as Aperam, BNK Financial, Hyundai Mobis, Vesuvius, Ayvens and Forvia. We also fully exited DL E&C following its strong re-rating. In addition, we exited positions in Sopra Steria and Nexity as key elements of the investment theses failed to materialize within our expected time horizon. During the quarter, we initiated several new positions where we see significant mispricing and upside potential. We established a position in Japanese cement producer Taiheiyo Cement, which is trading at a substantial discount to our estimate of intrinsic value. We believe the market is underappreciating the strength and earnings potential of its US operations. We also initiated a position in Lenovo. While currently valued as a legacy hardware producer, the company has meaningful exposure to structural growth areas linked to AI infrastructure and enterprise solutions. We expect normalisation in memory costs over the medium term to further support earnings. In addition, we added US-based reinsurance company Everest Re, which is undergoing a simplification of its business and applying a disciplined capital allocation framework. The company trades at a steep discount to our estimate of fair value and offers attractive upside potential.

We believe the opportunity set within global small and mid-cap equities remains highly compelling. Valuation gaps relative to large-cap equities are still elevated, and many companies continue to trade at significant discounts to intrinsic value despite improving fundamental outlooks. At the time of writing this report, the average market cap in the fund is USD 5.5 bn and we are invested in 48 deeply undervalued positions. Due to brisk idea generation, 35% of the positions were initiated less than year ago. The fund has substantial upside of 75% to our aggregated price targets. Reflecting our value focused investment process, the fund trades at highly attractive valuation at 0.6x book value and 9x earnings power.

Sustainability

SKAGEN's approach to sustainability

Our ESG approach is built on four pillars. In keeping with SKAGEN's active investment philosophy, our sustainability activities centre on active engagement with our holding companies, which is where we believe we can have the greatest impact. We recognise, however, that the full potential of a sustainable investment strategy is best realised when combining the following four pillars.

- ✓ Exclusion
- ✓ Enhanced due diligence
- ✓ ESG factsheet
- ✓ Active ownership

Article 8

Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation (SFDR)

The product promotes environmental and social characteristics by directing its capital towards companies and issuers that meet defined ESG (environmental, social and governance) criteria. This is achieved through compliance with international norms and conventions, by taking into account negative impacts on sustainable development (PAI) and through product- or activity-based exclusions. See the prospectus for more information on the products sustainability characteristics.
