Investment strategy

SKAGEN Focus Lux is a high conviction equity fund that seeks to generate long-term capital growth by investing in a portfolio of global companies with a bias towards small and mid-cap stocks. The fund is actively managed and applies a contrarian and price-driven investment process to create a portfolio which typically trades at a steep discount to the broader market based on traditional valuation metrics.

Risk profile (SRI)

We have classified this product as 4 out of 7, which is a medium risk class.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets. A medium risk class rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium level. Other risks materially relevant to the PRIIP not included in the summary risk indicator: Event risk, liquidity risk, operational risk, counterparty risk, derivatives risk and currency risk. If the fund invests in securities in a currency other than the fund's base currency, the value is affected by changes in the exchange rate. In addition, the value of your payout may be affected if your local currency is different from the fund's currency. This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

Portfolio manager commentary, August 2026

Global equity markets continued higher in August, although performance remained uneven across regions and sectors. The fund delivered a strong month and outperformed global equity markets, driven by several stock-specific developments.

South Korean industrial conglomerate KCC, one of our largest positions, was the biggest contributor to the fund's return after presenting its value-up plan and committing to higher shareholder returns, debt reduction and operational improvements. Management also intends to monetise its Samsung C&T stake over time, which is currently worth more than KCC's entire market capitalisation.

Moroccan silver and gold producer Aya Gold & Silver delivered strong results and reached our price target. We consequently exited the position following a highly profitable journey since 2024. Brazilian copper producer Ero Copper also reported strong numbers, reflecting improving operations and a supportive copper market. Established over recent months at a substantial discount, the position has already become a solid contributor and remains a core holding.

Aumovio was the largest detractor amid weak automotive-supplier sentiment. However, a favourable BMW settlement, significant new business wins and a shareholder-friendly payout framework have strengthened the investment case. Marcopolo also detracted following weaker-than-expected results due to an unfavourable product mix and softer exports. We believe the midterm prospects still look compelling while shares now trade at a substantial discount to normalised earnings potential.

We increased Hitachi Construction Machinery and Bangkok Bank. We exited Beazer Homes following an increased takeover bid and Peugeot Invest after the investment case failed to develop as anticipated.

Sustainability

SKAGEN's approach to sustainability

Our ESG approach is built on four pillars. In keeping with SKAGEN's active investment philosophy, our sustainability activities centre on active engagement with our holding companies, which is where we believe we can have the greatest impact. We recognise, however, that the full potential of a sustainable investment strategy is best realised when combining the following four pillars.

- ✓ Exclusion
- ✓ Enhanced due diligence
- ✓ ESG factsheet
- ✓ Active ownership

Article 8

Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation (SFDR)

The product promotes environmental and social characteristics by directing its capital towards companies and issuers that meet defined ESG (environmental, social and governance) criteria. This is achieved through compliance with international norms and conventions, by taking into account negative impacts on sustainable development (PAI) and through product- or activity-based exclusions. See the prospectus for more information on the products sustainability characteristics.
