Investment strategy

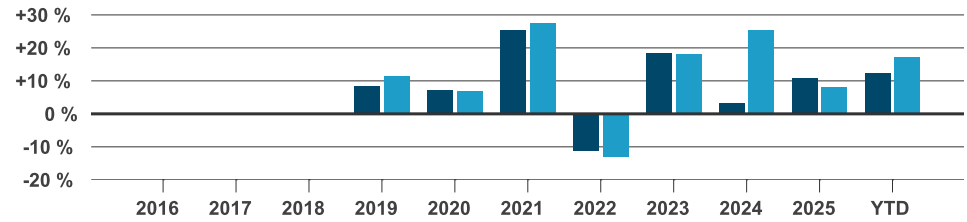

SKAGEN Focus Lux is a high conviction equity fund that seeks to generate long-term capital growth by investing in a portfolio of global companies with a bias towards small and mid-cap stocks. The fund is actively managed and applies a contrarian and price-driven investment process to create a portfolio which typically trades at a steep discount to the broader market based on traditional valuation metrics.

Cost information

For explanation of the overall impact of costs on the investment and expected returns please refer to the Key Information Document.

Ongoing cost: 1,75 % (Of which management fee is: 1,50 %)

Risk profile (SRI)

We have classified this product as 4 out of 7, which is a medium risk class.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets. A medium risk class rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium level. Other risks materially relevant to the PRIIP not included in the summary risk indicator: Event risk, liquidity risk, operational risk, counterparty risk, derivatives risk and currency risk. If the fund invests in securities in a currency other than the fund's base currency, the value is affected by changes in the exchange rate. In addition, the value of your payout may be affected if your local currency is different from the fund's currency. This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

Portfolio manager commentary, October 2026

Global equity markets were heavily affected by concerns over excessive AI investments and uncertainty about the future returns on these investments. The complex and circular financial relationships underpinning the AI ecosystem, combined with increasing leverage in the system, also contributed to weaker global equity markets during the period.

Although the fund has very limited direct exposure to AI, SKAGEN Focus underperformed its benchmark in October, mainly due to the unwarranted decline in its small- and mid-cap holdings in South Korea, where the fund has a sizeable position. Following the correction, we once again see very attractive valuations across several sectors in South Korea.

During the month, we also observed a sharp correction across ASEAN markets, particularly in Indonesia. This weaker price action allowed us to increase our positions in Telekom Indonesia and cement producer SIG.

In Brazil, the election result delivered a surprise, with the current government securing another term. This created an opportunity for us to increase our position in commercial vehicle producer MarcoPolo, which trades at exceptionally low multiples.

We reduced our position in Vesuvius, following the buy-out offer from RHI. We also reduced our position in methanol producer Methanex following a strong re-rating towards our target price.

Sustainability

SKAGEN's approach to sustainability

Our ESG approach is built on four pillars. In keeping with SKAGEN's active investment philosophy, our sustainability activities centre on active engagement with our holding companies, which is where we believe we can have the greatest impact. We recognise, however, that the full potential of a sustainable investment strategy is best realised when combining the following four pillars.

- ✓ Exclusion
- ✓ Enhanced due diligence
- ✓ ESG factsheet
- ✓ Active ownership

Article 8

Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation (SFDR)

The product promotes environmental and social characteristics by directing its capital towards companies and issuers that meet defined ESG (environmental, social and governance) criteria. This is achieved through compliance with international norms and conventions, by taking into account negative impacts on sustainable development (PAI) and through product- or activity-based exclusions. See the prospectus for more information on the products sustainability characteristics.
